PROJECTS

Parallax Website (Sun in the ocean)

Website depicts rich user experiences by creating new features utilizing HTML , CSS , JavaScript and JavaScript library Gsap. 3-Dimensional view which shows a live and reactive website.

- Parallax website includes fixed images in the background that is kept in place and user can scroll down the page to see different parts of the image.
- We have used a container element and add a background image to the container. Then we have used the background-attachment: fixed to create the actual parallax effect.
- For each HTML section we have given a class so that it can be targeted in the CSS.
- In the HTML page, we have divisions and in each division, there is a header and a small paragraph. In the CSS file, we have decorated our text and placed the header at a fixed position.
